I'm trying to create a simple login/register website with EF Core. I'm having a problem with logging in because I want the database to validate that the UserID is equal to the UserID in the database. I have set up the remote validations in my model (only my RegisterModel as an example). I have a RegisterViewModel that is mapped to a UserViewModel. When I try to register with an empty UserViewModel I get the following error: Cannot add duplicate key value 'UserID' in object 'dbo.Users' with unique index 'IX_Users_UserId'. The duplicate key value is (). The statement has been terminated. When I try to register with a User
